How this item informs your goals. Significance in your Practicum/Internship experience.	I used the information in this packet to deliver content to the students. Using the interactive notebook allowed them to organize information cohesively, so that they could easily compare cultures and holiday traditions from different countries. The foldables were engaging for the students, and allowed different styles of note-taking other than simply doing two-column notes or bulleted notes repeatedly. Overall, the goal was content delivery and organization.
